University Library

The University Library, a public library, offers a wide range of services to support students and faculty in their academic pursuits. It is committed to providing a comprehensive range of resources, including print and electronic materials, to support teaching, learning, and research activities. The Library houses a variety of collections, including books, journals, databases, and audiovisual resources. It also provides access to digital resources through its online catalog and other databases.

Collections

The Library’s collections include over 100,000 books, journals, and digital resources, covering a wide range of disciplines. The Library also offers various services, such as interlibrary loan and online access to online databases.

Interlibrary Loan Service

The Library offers an interlibrary loan service to provide access to materials not available in the Library’s collection. The service allows users to request books, articles, and other materials from other libraries.

Database Guide

The Library provides access to a variety of databases, including electronic journals, newspapers, and other resources. These databases are available both on- and off-campus, allowing users to access them from anywhere with an internet connection.

Purchase Recommendation

The Library encourages the use of purchase recommendations to ensure that the collection remains relevant and up-to-date. Users can submit recommendations for new books, journals, or other materials to support the Library’s collection development.

More information on the Library’s services and resources can be found on its website. Visitors are welcome to explore the Library and its facilities, which are open to the public during the hours of operation.
